

USE AN OBI ON A TABLE, A BIRDCAGE AS A CHANDELIER

Above: Buddha Head, $39.95, from Z Gallerie (310/630-1272). Silver salt and pepper shakers, $95; Takashimaya (800/753-2038). "Galaxy Vase" by Roost, $23, through Mxyplyzyk (212/989-4300). Mother Earth bowls in moss agate, $70; Ruzzetti & Gow (212/327-4281). Silver champagne beaker by Puiforcat, $735, from Hermès (800/238-5522). "Japanesque Vase" in sterling, 10 inches, $9,500, through Tiffany & Co. (800/526-0649). "Plus Que Jamai" parfum in Baccarat bottle with fresh-water pearls, $1,750 by Guerlain through Bergdorf (800/558-1855). Lacquer chopsticks, $8; Calvin Klein (212/292-9000). Misia Sert Tree, circa 1925, $25,000; R. Louis Bofferding (212/744-6725).

traditional Japanese paper lantern into carved white alabaster. For her home-furnishings collection, Ann Getty, the San Francisco socialite-turned-decorator, introduced a baroque indiscret—a semicircular love seat with four places to perch—upholstered with a patchwork of antique silk-brocade obis. "I used to use them as runners on my dining table," says Getty, who has been collecting Asian textiles for decades and is especially drawn to Ming gauzes and velvets.

Beacon Hill has coated its Chinese Chippendale-style side chair in dragon-lady scarlet lacquer. And in case you haven't noticed, cherry blossoms are blooming everywhere, the pink petals strewn across embroidered sheets from Better Living as well as the cosmetic firm Fresh's ceramic dressing-table accessories. Calvin Klein Home's sleek sushi plate and slender cinnabar-red chopsticks are being seen on all the most fashionable tables, too. Don't eat sushi? Then get a taste of old Edo (as Tokyo was known until 1869) by grouping a trio of Red Egg's colorfully ▶

Above: "Geishas Socializing" enamel wall plaque, $90; Kiln Enamel (www.kiln enamel.com). "Jazzy" tasseled silk tieback, to the trade; Houllès (310/652-6171). "Cherry Blossom" embroidered dupioni silk duvet cover, $450 for queen size; from Better Living (212/319-4966). Left: Hand-painted placemat, $135; Dransfield & Ross (212/741-7278). "Indochine" flatware, $278 for a five-piece place setting; Mariposa (800/788-1304). "Pareo Green" charger by Raynaud, $81, and "Si Kiang" dinner plate, $111; both from Gracious Style (www.graciousstyle.com). Right: "Chinoiserie Secretary," to the trade from Nancy Corzine (212/223-8340).

